PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO CLAIM 1

1. (Currently Amended) A method of managing communications between a mobile device and a wireless network, comprising:

establishing a first general packet radio service (GPRS) mobile management (MM) context for the mobile device to enable communication with the wireless network; terminating the first GPRS MM context while the mobile device is in a non-communicative state; queuing a first set of data in a local data store associated with the first GPRS MM context, wherein the first set of data includes one or more information transfer data frames that include electronic messaging data; making a decision to establish a second GPRS MM context to re-establish communication with the wireless network;

deleting the first set of data associated with the first GPRS MM context; and queuing a second set of data in the local data store associated with the second GPRS MM context.
